ANNOUNCEMENT OF 2007 AWARDS FOR ARTICLES PUBLISHED IN THE Revista Española de Cardiología

SPANISH SOCIETY OF CARDIOLOGY AWARDS FOR THE BEST ARTICLES PUBLISHED IN THE Revista Española de Cardiología

Amount: €15 000 (3 prizes)

Basis:
1. The purpose of these awards is to encourage the publication of high-quality original articles in the Revista Española de Cardiología.
2. A first prize of €7000, a second prize of €5000, and a third prize of €3000 will be awarded through the Fundación Casa del Corazón.
3. The awards will be given annually and are to be awarded each year.
4. All original articles published in the Revista Española de Cardiología during 2006 are eligible. Articles published as editorials, special articles, or review papers are not eligible for these awards.
5. The editor-in-chief and the associate editors of the Revista Española de Cardiología will pre-select what they consider the 6 best articles published in the journal in 2006 after consulting with the chairs of the Scientific Sections of the Spanish Society of Cardiology.
6. The jury that will make the final selection of the 3 articles to receive awards will be overseen by the vice president of the Spanish Society of Cardiology and will also consist of the editor-in-chief of the Revista Española de Cardiología, and the members of the Spanish Society of Cardiology grants and awards committee. The final decision is not subject to appeal.
7. The awards will be given at a ceremony that will take place during the Cardiovascular Disease Congress, to be held in Madrid from 18 to 20 October 2007.

AWARDS FROM THE SPANISH SOCIETY OF CARDIOLOGY FOR ARTICLES PUBLISHED IN THE Revista Española de Cardiología WITH THE GREATEST INTERNATIONAL IMPACT

Amount: €24 000 (6 prizes)

Basis:
1. The purpose of these awards is to encourage the publication in the Revista Española de Cardiología of original articles that have an important impact or repercussion, both in the medium- and long-term, on the international scientific community.
2. A first prize of €6000 and 2 second prizes of €3000 will be awarded to those articles with long-term impact, and another first prize of €6000, and 2 second prizes of €3000 will be awarded to those articles with the greatest medium-term impact, through the Fundación Casa del Corazón.
3. The awards will be given annually and are to be awarded each year.
4. All original articles published in the Revista Española de Cardiología will be eligible. Articles published as editorials, special articles, or review papers are not eligible for these awards.
5. The impact of the published articles will be measured by the number of reference citations received by the article published in the Revista Española de Cardiología from journals per the Science Citation Index Expanded®.
6. For the award to the article with the most significant long-term international impact, the reference citations for articles published in the journal in 2001 that have been cited during the years 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, and 2006 will be determined. For the award to the article with the most significant medium-term international impact, the reference citations for articles published in the journal during 2004 that have been cited during the years 2005 and 2006 will be determined.
7. Calculation of the number of reference citations per the SCI for each article will be determined by an organization independent of the journal and the Spanish Society of Cardiology that will issue an annual report on the topic.
8. The awards will be given at a special ceremony that will take place during the Cardiovascular Disease Congress, to be held in Madrid from 18 to 20 October 2007.

AWARDS FROM THE CLINICAL AND OUTPATIENT CARDIOLOGY SECTION FOR ARTICLES PUBLISHED IN THE Revista Española de Cardiología

Amount: €2 400 (2 prizes)
