ANNOUNCEMENT OF 2008 AWARDS FOR ARTICLES PUBLISHED IN THE Revista Española de Cardiología

SPANISH SOCIETY OF CARDIOLOGY AWARDS FOR THE BEST ARTICLES PUBLISHED IN THE Revista Española de Cardiología

Amount: €15 000 (3 prizes)

Basis:
1. The purpose of these awards is to encourage the publication of high-quality original articles in the Revista Española de Cardiología.
2. A first prize of €7000, a second prize of €5000, and a third prize of €3000 will be awarded through the Fundación Casa del Corazón.
3. The awards will be given annually and are to be awarded each year.
4. All original articles published in the Revista Española de Cardiología during 2007 are eligible. Articles published as editorials, special articles, or review papers are not eligible for these awards.
5. The editor-in-chief and the associate editors of the Revista Española de Cardiología will pre-select what they consider to be the 6 best articles published in the journal in 2007 after consulting with the chairs of the scientific divisions of the Spanish Society of Cardiology.
6. The jury that will make the final selection of the 3 articles to receive awards will be overseen by the vice chair of the Spanish Society of Cardiology and will also consist of the editor-in-chief of the Revista Española de Cardiología and the members of the SCS Grants and Awards Committee. The final decision is not subject to appeal.
7. The awards will be given at a ceremony that will take place during the Cardiovascular Disease Congress, to be held in Bilbao, on October 9-11, 2008.

AWARDS FROM THE SPANISH SOCIETY OF CARDIOLOGY FOR ARTICLES WITH THE GREATEST INTERNATIONAL IMPACT PUBLISHED IN THE Revista Española de Cardiología

Amount: €24 000 (6 prizes)

Basis:
1. The purpose of these awards is to encourage the publication in the Revista Española de Cardiología of original articles that have a considerable impact or repercussion, both in the medium-term and long-term, on the international scientific community.
2. A first prize of €6000 and 2 second prizes of €3000 will be awarded to those articles with long-term impact, and another first prize of €6000 and 2 second prizes of €3000 will be awarded to those articles with the greatest medium-term impact, through the Fundación Casa del Corazón.
3. The awards will be given annually and are to be awarded each year.
4. All original articles published in the Revista Española de Cardiología will be eligible. Articles published as editorials, special articles, or review papers are not eligible for these awards.
5. The impact of the published articles will be measured by the number of reference citations received by the article published in the Revista Española de Cardiología from journals per the Science Citation Index Expanded.
6. For the award to the article with the most significant long-term international impact, the reference citations for articles published in the journal in 2002 that have been cited during the years 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, and 2007 will be determined. For the award to the article with the most significant medium-term international impact, the reference citations for articles published in the journal during 2005 that have been cited during the years 2006 and 2007 will be determined.
7. Calculation of the number of reference citations per the SCI for each article will be determined by an organization independent of the Revista Española de Cardiología and the Spanish Society of Cardiology that will issue an annual report on the topic.
8. The awards will be given at a special ceremony that will take place during the Cardiovascular Disease Congress, to be held in Bilbao, on October 9-11, 2008.

AWARDS FROM THE CLINICAL AND OUTPATIENT CARDIOLOGY SECTION

Amount: €2400 (2 prizes)

Basis:
1. The Clinical and Outpatient Cardiology Section, in order to encourage and promote the submission of articles and/or scientific reviews in the Revista Española de Cardiología among section members, announces 2 prizes of €1200 each, through the Fundación Casa del Corazón, to the best original articles or brief reports on clinical cardiology published in the Revista Española de Cardiología during 2007.
2. One of the awards will be reserved for section members who have been members for at least 1 year.
3. The jury will be composed of 2 members of the Clinical and Outpatient Cardiology Section and the editor-in-chief of the Revista Española de Cardiología or the person he designates. The final decision is not subject to appeal. The practical interest and scientific content of the study will be evaluated.
4. The awards will be given at a ceremony that will take place during the Cardiovascular Disease Congress, to be held in Bilbao, on October 9-11, 2008.

AWARD FROM THE GERIATRIC SECTION

Amount: €1500

The Geriatric Cardiology Section of the Spanish Society of Cardiology wishes to promote research in geriatric cardiology and encourage authors to publish their results in the Revista Española de Cardiología or in other high-impact journals.

AWARDS FROM THE ISCHEMIC HEART DISEASE AND CORONARY UNIT SECTION TO THE BEST ARTICLES ON ISCHEMIC HEART DISEASE PUBLISHED IN SPANISH AND IN ENGLISH

Amount: €6000 (2 prizes)

The Ischemic Heart Disease and Coronary Unit Section of the Spanish Society of Cardiology wishes to promote research on ischemic heart disease and encourage authors to publish their results in the Revista Española de Cardiología or in other high-impact journals.

Therefore, 2 prizes of €3000 each will be awarded through the Fundación Casa del Corazón. One prize will be awarded to the best article on ischemic heart disease published in the Revista Española de Cardiología during 2007. The second prize will be given to the best article on ischemic heart disease published during 2007 in an English journal of higher impact factor than the Revista Española de Cardiología.

Basis:
1. All original articles on ischemic heart disease published in Revista Española de Cardiología or another journal in English with a higher impact factor during 2007 are eligible.
2. Authors of publications in English journals should submit their application along with a copy of the article.

The deadline for reception at the Spanish Society of Cardiology Secretarial Office (Ischemic Heart Disease Section) expires on April 23, 2008, at 7:30 PM. Requests received after the deadline indicated will be rejected.
3. Only studies in which the original intellectual work was done in Spain will be evaluated.
4. Priority will be given to studies with results that have practical implications or assist in clinical decision-making or resource management or organization.
5. Studies sponsored by the pharmaceutical industry are excluded.
6. The awards will be given annually.
7. The jury will be composed of two members of the Ischemic Heart Disease Section, two members of the executive board of the section, and the editor-in-chief of the Revista Española de Cardiología. The final decision is not subject to appeal.
8. The awards will be given during the opening session of the Cardiovascular Disease Congress, to be held in Bilbao, on October 9-11, 2008.
